Defector Says He's Czar's Son

Counter-Spy A Romanoff?

CPYRGHT

NEW YORK - (UPI) - Col Michael Goleniewski, a defector from the Polish secret service t who was revealed as a counter. assassination at Ekaterinberg, spy by the U.S. government, made his first official bid Saturday for recognition as the son of the late Czar Nicholas II of Goleniewski, who was made a U.S. citizen by act of Congress, stated in a three-column advertisement in The New York. Journal-American that he is the Czarevich Alexei Nicholaevich and that all four of his slaters also are alive. The claim had been made previously on behalf of the alleged Romanoffs by a New York publisher, Rebert Speller, who will publish a book entitled "The Reappearance of the Romanoffs.

The former Polish colonel took the ad in answer to a statement made by Count Georgia Grabbe, protopresbyter of the synod of Russian Orthodox bishops outside Russia, in the newspaper Novoye Russkoye Slovo Dec. 8 saying he had never recognized Goleniewski as the czarevich.

The archariest-count married Goleniewski to a woman of Russian extraction in Russian Orthodox rites last Sep-

Both the marriage license and the religious, marriage docu-

CPYRGHT

ints referred to Goleniewskij Alexei Nicholaevich Roma-

Goleniewski claimed the arclipriest had been influenced by the same "forces" that preventthe reappearance of the fam-, il for 47 years after it escaped e Bolsheviks. He said one of e motivations for "isolating" in m and his sisters was interest in "my father's inheritance in the West, approximately 400 in illion dollars which has been deposited for more than 50 ars" in various European

The defector claims that both he czar and czarina escaped originally believed until a white Russian commission found a few charred bones there, and lived in Poland under ssumed names until 1924 and amily's identity was suppressed 1952 respectively. He said the y "provocation, insinuation nd manipulation."

Cleve Backster, an identification expert who has been an adviser to the FBI, said recently that fingerprints and dental comparisons indicated that Goleniewski is the czarevich.

The fingerprints were alegedly obtained from docunents found in England which had been handled by the czar's on. Goleniewski also has medical documents proving he is a nemophiliac, as was the czarev-

Lie detector tests given Goleniewski's alleged sister, the Grand Duchess Anastasia, at the time Speller published her book last year, were not definiive. Since then women claiming to be the Grand Duchesses Olga, Tatiana, and Maria have emerged at the bidding of Goleniowski and Anastasia to sustain the family claim.

FOIAb3b

Meve